KAILUA-KONA

WINTER of 2011 MEET & GREET

@ LAVA JAVA.

Release Date: January 12, 2011

The Big Island Geocachers will be promoting geocaching at their February 20th "Meet & Greet" at their 3rd annual meeting and travel bug exchange... Anyone who is interested in Geocaching or who owns a GPS is encouraged to attend this event. No experience necessary, as volunteers will show you how and where to find a geocache. There are about 1,200 geocaches hidden on the Hawaiian Islands with about 100+ of them on the Big Island alone. Time: 9:00 AM to 12:00 noon. Free to the public.

Author S.P. Grogan will be speaking on his latest mystery, Captain Cooked which features geocaching to find a hidden Hawaiian war club worth $5,000.

Location of meeting is close to all the waterfront shops right across the break-wall of "Kona Bay" where you might find one of the cruise ships anchored out a little farther. Parking is available at the back or at the municipal parking lot. For a number of Geocaches within walking distance see list below.
