

PRIORITY ANNOUNCEMENT: PLEASE POST IMMEDIATELY!

Kona Bay Books, located at 74-5487 Kaiwi Street, Kona, is pleased to announce we will be hosting a very special book signing of Captain Cooked, with author S.P. Grogan in attendance. Saturday, February 19th, 10a.m. to noon.

Author S.P. Grogan has stated he spent many hours at Kona Bay Books seeking out Hawaiian history and cultural books in his research while writing Captain Cooked. Kona Bay Books offers used and new books in over 6,000 sq. ft.

Captain Cooked has become known as the perfect beach read. One reviewer said, "Captain Cooked is like Janet Evanovich morphing into Rachel Ray while filming on the Big Island a remake of the Perils of Pauline." Honolulu Star Advertiser reviewed, "the meat of the novel is novel enough to spark interest among filmmakers."

Captain Cooked is both thriller adventure and cuisine travelogue of the Big Island. 25 recipes are featured from top chefs and restaurants. A part of the proceeds of book sales is being contributed to the island's Food Basket program.

Intriguing, within Captain Cooked are clues that can lead to a hidden Hawaiian war club, redeemable by the publisher for $5,000. GPS is required in the hunt, and the book has become a favorite of tourists playing at the outdoor sport of geocaching.

Kona Bay Books is located on Kaiwi Street, across from Trojan Lumber and behind Island Naturals. Look for the large BOOKS sign. Telephone: 326-7790.
